CORAM : R.M.S. KHANDEPARKAR
AND
Mrs. V.K. TAHILRAMANI, JJ.

DATE : OCTOBER 26, 2007.

P.C. [Smt. V. K. Tahilramani, J.]

. Heard. Petitioner preferred present application for parole on the ground that he has to attend to some property matters. The said application came to be rejected on this ground. The appeal preferred by the petitioner came to be rejected. Parole is granted on the grounds like illness, death of family members of the convicted, or in case of any other natural calamity. The rules are very clear that parole cannot be granted on the ground of attending to property matters.

In such case, we do not find any fault on the part of the authorities, in rejecting the application of the petitioner for parole.

Hence, Writ Petition is rejected.

2. This order be communicated to the petitioner by the Jail Authorities.
